2. Announcements & Reports  [Attachment A]

A Senator expressed concern about the anonymous evaluation distributed at the conclusion of the Faculty Development Day at the end of August; the concern expressed was that the demographic questions were of descriptive information that could easily identify faculty members. President Kaplowitz agreed that such demographic information should not have been asked and said she would request that such information not be asked in the future.

3. Approval of Minutes #374 of the May 25, 2011, meeting. Approved: 43-0-2

4. Ratification of Election Slates for positions on College, University, and Faculty Senate Committees. [Attachment B]

Faculty election slates to College, University, and Faculty Senate Committees [Attachment B] were approved by the Senate by unanimous vote.

5. Revised CUNY Academic Integrity Policy: Implementation Decisions: Executive Committee [Attachment C, D]

The CUNY Board of Trustees revised the CUNY Academic Integrity Policy [Attachment C] in June 2011, effective July 1, 2011. As a result, John Jay’s Faculty Senate must make recommendations about two issues:

(1) should the Academic Integrity Officer at John Jay continue to be a staff member located in the Office of the Vice President for Student Development, or henceforth be a staff member located in the Office of the Provost, or henceforth be a tenured member of the faculty?

(2) should charges of cheating and plagiarism and other breaches of academic integrity, as defined in the CUNY policy [Attachment C], continue to be referred to and adjudicated by the Student/Faculty Disciplinary Committee or rather by a newly created Committee on Academic Integrity and, if the latter, who should be the members of the Committee and how should it operate?

The Senate may also wish to identify problems and propose ways to improve the academic integrity culture and processes of the College.

President Kaplowitz gave a brief historical context of the process and the revision of the policy. Next a brief anonymous survey was distributed to the Senators; the responses will facilitate a discussion about academic integrity issues at subsequent Senate meetings.

The Senate reviewed a document [Attachment D] provided by the current Academic Integrity Officer, Dana Trimboli, as to the number of complaints of academic dishonesty annually since 1994 and the number of cases that were referred by the Dean of Students to the Student/Faculty Judicial Committee. During these 7 years, 346 complaints were lodged and only 11 hearings were held. A Senator asked at what course level (100 level - 400 level, undergraduate or graduate) were the incidents most prevalent. Also requested was information as to whether the students were found guilty or not guilty and what penalties were given. Also asked was what happened to the hundreds of complaints that were not referred to the Disciplinary Committee by the Dean of Students, Wayne Edwards. President Kaplowitz said she would ask for this information.

President Kaplowitz praised the current Academic Integrity Officer, Dana Trimboli, who reports to Vice President for Student Development Berenecea Johnson Eanes, saying she has been doing an excellent job but positing that the Office of Student Development, by definition, has a student advocacy orientation and role, which she called an inappropriate one for this work. President Kaplowitz reported that she had participated in a meeting the previous week called by Provost Bowers about the revised academic integrity policy. At the meeting were Provost Bowers, Dean Lopes, VP Eanes, Counsel Maldonado, and Academic Integrity Officer Dana Trimboli. Although the Senate’s position is ultimately the key one, she said she thinks it relevant that everyone at that meeting agreed that the AI Officer should henceforth be in Academic Affairs, reporting directly to the Provost.

A Senator expressed concern about whether there is a clear definition of what plagiarism is that has been agreed on at the College and whether students aware of it. President Kaplowitz referred the Senate to the description of academic dishonesty that is included in the CUNY Policy on Academic Integrity [Attachment C]. She said one of the responsibilities of the IA Officer is to educate the faculty and the students about AI and the processes for reporting it and what happens after it has been reported.

A Senator spoke about being uncomfortable reporting incidents of academic dishonesty because she is untenured. Others agreed. President Kaplowitz commented that administrators seemingly do not understand why being untenured is an issue for faculty members who are confronted by student academic dishonesty and why that fact tends to result in few faculty members not reporting incidents to the AI Officer. On the other hand, she said she believes that the fact that few of the incidents that are reported are ever referred by the Dean of Students to the Student/Faculty Disciplinary Committee also has an inhibitory result.

Senators discussed the attitude of the administration about academic integrity and how it influences the image of the institution, particularly with its move toward higher academic standards. A Senator suggested that not having an academic integrity committee in place is a problem. A Senator argued that a streamlined, user friendly, effective method of reporting is needed.

The Senate affirmed by a vote of 45-0-0 that the College should create an Academic Integrity Committee, comprised only of faculty members, and that the Committee should be charged with immediately creating a system whereby faculty members can report instances of academic dishonesty by using an online system that is easy and fast to use.
The Senate then affirmed by a vote of 44-0-0 that the Academic Integrity Officer should henceforth be located in the Office of Academic Affairs (OAA) because this is an academic matter and having the AI Officer in OAA, reporting directly to the Provost, will send an important message to the faculty about the importance and seriousness with which the Provost and academic deans view instances of student academic dishonesty and how they will treat such cases. No one voted to continue having the Academic Integrity Officer continue to report to the Office of Student Development (which s/he has been doing since the University's first creation of an Academic Integrity Policy in 1993) and one Senator voted in favor of having the Academic Integrity Officer be a tenured member of the faculty.

The Senate recommended that a formal proposal for the establishment and membership of an Academic Integrity Committee be developed by the Academic Standards Subcommittee of UCASC and then jointly by UCASC and the Graduate Studies Committee and then be transmitted to the College Council for its action. This was supported by unanimous vote.

6. Decisions about the Honors Program [Attachment E]

President Kaplowitz reported that she had just informed Dean of Undergraduate Studies Anne Lopes and Honors Program Director John Matteson that before they assumed their current positions (indeed, three months before Dean Lopes joined John Jay), the College Council in May 2009 had unanimously approved three amendments [Attachment E] proposed by Karen Kaplowitz, in response to the concerns of faculty members about the Honors Program proposal which was then on the agenda of the College Council for approval. Without those amendments, she and the Senate recalled, the Honors Program proposal would not have been approved by the faculty.

Unfortunately, it turns out no one informed Dean Lopes nor Professor Matteson when he became the director of the Honors Program about these amendments. The Senate, by unanimous vote, decided to therefore extend the deadlines of the three amendments, calling for them to take place in December 2011 since the October 2009 deadline had been missed. The Senate agreed with President Kaplowitz’s suggestion that she convey the Senate’s position, in writing, directly to President Travis rather than submit them to the College Council for the Council’s action.

Senators expressed their dismay that their diligence in attending College Council meetings—and because the proposed Honors Program was initially defeated at the first College Council meeting in May had to attend a second College Council meeting in May 2009—and in studying and analyzing proposals, such as that of the Honors Program, about which the Senate devoted part of five meetings during the 2008-9 year, was not matched by the most minimal requirement, that of the implementation of the College Council’s decisions. It is a serious problem when decisions are formally adopted and are then not implemented. A Senator stated that policy votes are not suggestions and these amendments must be implemented.
The Senate's unanimously held position is that even though the deadlines for two of the amendments were missed two years ago, the decisions of the College Council are binding and must still be honored. The Senate, therefore, voted to recommend that the deadline established in Resolution #2 and Resolution #3 [Attachment E] be extended from October 2009 to December 2011. The vote of the Senate was unanimous: 45-0-0. In other words, the Senate recommended that a proposal on admissions standards, as required by Resolution #2, be brought to the College Council at its December 2011 meeting. The Senate also recommended that the surveys and focus groups of students and also of faculty members who participated in the previous honors program (several of whom are members of the Faculty Senate) that were to have taken place in 2009-10, as required by Resolution #3, be conducted between now and December 2011.

7. Follow-up on proposed policy regarding changing the final course grade after grades have been submitted to the Registrar [Attachment F]

President Kaplowitz reviewed the fact that during the spring 2011 semester, a proposed policy from the Undergraduate Curriculum and Academic Standards Committee (UCASC) to the College Council, if approved, would have permitted a faculty member to change final grades after they are submitted to the Registrar only if the faculty member had made an error in computation or transmission; furthermore, the proposed policy would prohibit a faculty member from permitting a student to do extra work after the grades are submitted in an attempt to receive a higher grade [Attachment F]. Because of questions about the proposed policy by some members of the Senate, the item had been withdrawn from the College Council agenda at the request of the Senate. The withdrawal was agreed to by President Travis, the Chair of the College Council, conditional on the item being resubmitted to the College Council in the beginning of the fall 2011 semester.

Associate Provost James Llana, who is the administrator heading our Middle States self-study of our Middle States 10-year reaccreditation process, has expressed dismay at the failure of John Jay to approve this policy, which deals with an issue of institutional integrity, which is something that Middle States pays particular attention to; indeed, institutional integrity is one of the 14 Middle States standards that the College must pass. Final course grades are not supposed to be subject to negotiation.

President Kaplowitz asked Senators to think about this proposed policy which will be on the next Senate meeting agenda for discussion.

The meeting was adjourned at 3:30 PM.

Board of Trustees approves John Jay Charter Amendment:

In June, the CUNY Board of Trustees approved John Jay's Charter Amendment initiated by the Faculty Senate. This amendment permits the College to return to its 40-year method of considering candidates for promotion to full-professor by having the process begin with a consideration and vote by the candidate's Department Personnel & Budget Committee. Without this Charter amendment, consideration of candidates for full professor had to bypass the departmental committee and begin at the College-wide personnel committee level.

Each college shall use a uniform form throughout the college, which shall contain, at a minimum, the name of the instructor, the name of the student, the course name and number and section number, the date of the incident, a description of the incident and the instructor's contact information.

3.3 The Academic Integrity Officer shall update the Faculty Report Form after a suspected incident has been resolved to reflect that resolution. Unless the resolution exonerates the student, as described in Section 4.4, the Academic Integrity Officer of each college shall place the Form in a confidential academic integrity file created for each student alleged to have violated the Academic Integrity Policy and shall retain each Form for the purposes of identifying repeat offenders, gathering data, and assessing and reviewing policies. Unless the student is exonerated, written decisions on academic integrity matters after adjudication also shall be placed in the student's academic integrity file. The Academic Integrity Officer shall be responsible for maintaining students' academic integrity files.

4 Procedures for Imposition of Sanctions

4.1 Determination on academic vs. disciplinary sanction
The Academic Integrity Officer shall determine whether to seek a disciplinary sanction in addition to an academic sanction. In making this determination, the Academic Integrity Officer shall consult with the faculty member who initiated the case and may consult with student affairs and/or academic affairs administrators as needed. Before determining which sanction(s) to seek, the Academic Integrity Officer also shall consult the student's confidential academic integrity file, if any, to determine whether the student has been found to have previously committed a violation of the Academic Integrity Policy, the nature of the infraction, and the sanction imposed or action taken. Prior violations include both violations at the student's current college and violations that occurred at any other CUNY college. In making the determination on prior violations, the Academic Integrity Officer shall determine whether the student previously attended any other CUNY colleges and, if so, shall request and be given access to the academic integrity files, if any, at such other CUNY colleges.

The Academic Integrity Officer should seek disciplinary sanctions only if (i) there is a substantial violation; or (ii) the student has previously violated the Policy; or (iii) academic sanctions are unable to be imposed because the student has timely withdrawn from the applicable course. Examples of substantial violations include but are not limited to forging a grade form or a transcript; stealing an examination from a professor or a university office; having a substitute take an examination or taking an examination for someone else; having someone else write a paper for the student or writing a paper for another student; sabotaging another student's work through actions that prevent or impede the other student from successfully completing an assignment; and violations committed by a graduate or professional student or a student who will seek professional licensure. The college also should consider any mitigating circumstances in making this determination.

4.2 Procedures in Cases Involving Only Academic Sanctions

4.2.1 Student Admits to the Academic Dishonesty and Does Not Contest the Academic Sanction

If a faculty member wishes to seek only an academic sanction (i.e., a reduced grade) and the student does not contest either his/her guilt or the particular reduced grade the faculty member has chosen, then the student shall be given the reduced grade, unless the Academic Integrity Officer decides to seek a disciplinary sanction. The reduced grade may apply to the particular assignment as to which the violation occurred or to the course grade, at the faculty member's discretion. A reduced grade may be an "F" or another grade that is lower than the grade that the student would have earned but for the violation. The faculty member shall inform the Academic Integrity Officer of the resolution via email and the Officer shall update the applicable Faculty Report Form to reflect that resolution.

4.2.2 Student Admits to the Academic Dishonesty but Contests the Academic Sanction

In a case where a student admits to the alleged academic dishonesty but contests the particular academic sanction imposed, the student may appeal the academic sanction through the college's grade appeal process. The student shall be allowed, at a minimum, an opportunity to present a written position with supporting evidence. The committee reviewing the appeal shall issue a written decision explaining the justification for the academic sanction imposed.

4.2.3 Student Denies the Academic Dishonesty

In a case where a student denies the academic dishonesty, a fact-finding determination shall be made, at each college's option, by an Academic Integrity Committee established by the college's governance body or by the Student-Faculty Disciplinary Committee established under Article XV of the CUNY Bylaws. Each college's Academic Integrity Committee shall adopt procedures for hearing cases. (If a college opts to use its Student-Faculty Disciplinary Committee for this purpose, that Committee shall use Article XV procedures.) Those procedures, at a minimum, shall provide a student with (i) written notice of the charges against him or her; (ii) the right to appear before the Committee; and (iii) the right to present witness statements and/or to call witnesses. Those procedures also shall provide the faculty member with the right to make an appearance before the Committee. The Committee may request the testimony of any witness and may permit any such witness to be questioned by the student and by the administrator presenting the case. Academic Integrity Committees and Student-Faculty Disciplinary Committees, as applicable, shall issue written decisions and send copies of their decisions to the college's Academic Integrity Officer. The Academic Integrity Officer may not serve on a college's Academic Integrity Committee.

4.3 Procedures in Cases Involving Disciplinary Sanctions
If the college decides to seek a disciplinary sanction, the case shall be processed under Article XV of the CUNY Bylaws. If the case is not resolved through mediation under Article XV, it shall be heard by the college's Faculty-Student Disciplinary Committee.

If the college seeks to have both a disciplinary and an academic sanction imposed, the college shall proceed first with the disciplinary proceeding and await its outcome before addressing the academic sanction. The student's grade shall be held in abeyance by using the PEN grade established for this purpose, pending the Committee's action. If the Faculty-Student Disciplinary Committee finds that the alleged violation occurred, then the faculty member may reflect that finding in the student's grade. The student may appeal the finding in accordance with Article XV procedures and/or may appeal the grade imposed by the faculty member in accordance with section 4.2.2. If the Faculty-Student Disciplinary Committee finds that the alleged violation did not occur, then no sanction of any kind may be imposed.

Where a matter proceeds to the Faculty-Student Disciplinary Committee, the Academic Integrity Officer shall promptly report its resolution to the faculty member and file a record of the resolution in the student's confidential academic integrity file, unless, as explained below, the suspected violation was held to be unfounded.

4.4 Required Action in Cases of No Violation
If either the Academic Integrity Committee or the Faculty-Student Disciplinary Committee finds that no violation occurred, the Academic Integrity Officer shall remove all material relating to that incident from the student's confidential academic integrity file and destroy the material.

4.5 Implementation
Each college, in accordance with its governance plan, shall implement this Policy and may adopt its own more specific procedures to implement the Policy. Colleges' procedures must be consistent with the policy and procedures described in the Policy.

Agenda Item #6: Decisions about the Honors Program

3 Resolutions to amend the proposal for a new Honors Program
That had been submitted to the College Council by Professor Karen Kaplowitz
Each of these Resolutions was approved by unanimous vote of the College Council on May 11, 2009 following which the proposal for the Honors Program, as amended, was approved on May 16, 2009

RESOLUTION #1
Resolution Regarding Assessment of the Honors Program

RESOLVED
That there shall be an annual evaluation of the proposed new Honors Program that is on the agenda of the College Council’s May 11, 2009, meeting;

That this evaluation shall consist of annual reports that shall include but not be limited to the following: admissions standards, enrollment, retention, progress toward degree, graduation rates, curriculum, student satisfaction, faculty satisfaction, and cost to the college; and

That the reporting and assessment methodologies and instruments shall be developed during the 2009-10 academic year by the Honors Program Task Force in consultation with the Director of Assessment and the Director of the Office of Institutional Research and shall be approved by the Undergraduate Curriculum and Academic Standards Committee and by the College Council; and

That beginning in Fall 2011 and annually thereafter, for the subsequent four years, an assessment report shall be submitted by the Honors Program Governance Committee to the Undergraduate Curriculum and Academic Standards Committee and to the College Council.

RATIONALE
The College has an interest in carefully monitoring the effectiveness of the proposed Honors Program at John Jay. Since this is a College-wide interest, it is appropriate that the assessment and evaluation of such initiatives have the attention of College governance committees.
RESOLUTION #2
Resolution Regarding Admission to the Honors Program

RESOLVED
That the Honors Program shall be amended to provide for the admission of students who are in the top ranks of each major; and

That the Honors Program Task Force and the Undergraduate Curriculum and Academic Standards Committee shall study such admittance to the Honors Program and shall present a proposal for action by the College Council at its October 2009 meeting, at the latest.

RATIONALE
Certain majors are extremely challenging and might unfairly exclude students from possible admission in the Honors Program. This provision would provide a method for including them and thus further ensure diversity of the students in the program by providing for diversity of academic majors. The proposal is provide for the invitation of students in each major who are in the top 5% or 10%, to be determined by the relevant governance bodies, of all students in each major to apply for admission.

RESOLUTION #3
Resolution Regarding an Assessment of Former and Current Honors Program Students and Faculty Members

RESOLVED
That the Office of Assessment and the Director of Institutional Research, in consultation with the Honors Program Task Force, shall develop an assessment instrument and methodology, including focus groups, that measure the satisfaction and experience of those students currently and previously enrolled in the current Honors Program and of those students enrolled in the existing Program during the 2009-10 Academic Year as well as those faculty members who currently and previously taught in the Program as well as those teaching in the program during 2009-10. The survey instrument and focus groups shall include questions for ascertaining the opinions of these students and of these faculty members about the proposed new Honors Program.

RATIONALE
The experience and opinions of students and faculty in the current Honors Program – which has existed for 7 years – are important to know and to analyze in developing and implementing the best possible Honors Program at John Jay.
ATTACHMENT F

Agenda Item #7: This item had been withdrawn from the March 2011 agenda of the College Council because of questions that had been raised by members of the Faculty Senate. The Senate agreed to revisit this proposed policy at the beginning of the Fall 2011 Semester.

To: Undergraduate Curriculum and Academic Standards Committee

From: The Academic Standards Subcommittee

Date: February 17, 2011

Re: Proposal Regarding Change of Grade After Final Grades are Filed

N.B. This item was approved by UCASC in the of Spring 2010 and was referred back to Committee by the College Council during the Fall 2010 semester for clarification. It was subsequently revised by the Academic Standards Committee.

Current Policy:
After final grades for a course have been submitted to the Registrar, a faculty member who decides to change a grade completes a Change of Grade form and submits it to her/his department chair who emails the request to the Registrar.

Proposed Policy:
Grades, once submitted to the Registrar, shall not be changed unless there has been a computational error resulting in an incorrect grade having been submitted. Faculty requests for a change in a final grade shall be submitted to the department chair and, if approved, submitted by the chair to the Dean of Undergraduate Studies. If the Dean of Undergraduate Studies approves the grade change request because a computational error was made, the Dean shall forward the change of grade request to the Registrar.

Given this policy, faculty shall not permit students to submit supplemental(extra-credit) work in an attempt to try to improve their final course grade after grades have been submitted to the Registrar. (Implementation date: Fall 2011)
Rationale:
Grades are universally recognized as a means of showing student achievement within a particular course. Grades are not a negotiation. Rather, they are based on the same work required of all students within the course of the semester. This is sound fairness policy. It is also institutional integrity policy. The acceptance by faculty of additional student work after the final grade is recorded is not fair to those students who have completed the course and have been given a course grade without the opportunity to do extra work and without the extra time to do such extra work. Appeals of grades and grade changes should not be influenced by extra work that other students are not afforded the opportunity to do. This policy also ensures integrity of the grading system which is essential for the reputation of the College, which is essential for our students and our graduates. Furthermore, the Incomplete Grade exists for those students unable to complete their work during the course of the semester. Similarly, an Administrative Withdrawal from a course is possible, with documentation, after the course withdrawal date and a Retroactive Withdrawal is available, with documentation, even after the completion of a course and the submission of the final grade.
